

Prof Roberto Cipriani emeritus and senior professor of Sociology at Roma Tre University, where he was Director of the Department of Educational Sciences from 2001 to 2012. He was visiting professor at the University of Berkeley. He is Past President of the Italian Sociology Association. He taught at the University of Sao Paulo in Brazil, at the Laval University of Quebec and at the University of Recife. Former Past President of the Sociology of Religion Research Committee in the International Sociological Association and Editor-in-Chief of International Sociology, official journal of the International Sociological Association. He was part of the Executive Committee of the Association Internationale des Sociologues de Langue Française and of the International Society for the Sociology of Religion. He is a member of the Executive Committee of the International Institute of Sociology. He has conducted investigations in Greece, Mexico, Spain and Israel and has made some research films. In 2006 he was “Chancellor Dunning Trust Lecturer” at Queen's University in Kingston, Canada. In 2008 he was Directeur d'Etudes - Maison des Sciences de l'Homme - Paris. Former President of the Council of National Sociology Associations of the European Sociological Association from 2009 to 2015, he is currently National President of the Italian Association of University Teachers. Honorary President for Christianity of the Karol Wojtyla International Association, whose members, by statute, are Jews, Christians and Muslims